

The Jefferson County Veterans' Service Office received a donation of $7,316 from "Battle of the Bars" Charity Bowling Event in April

This is without a doubt, the largest single donation ever made to the Jefferson County Veterans Service Commission! The funds entrusted to the Veterans' Service Commission will be passed on to help as many Veterans as possible this year!

We salute Ramona Brockman, one of the five original founders of the 'Battle of the Bars' and Chris McDonald and Trudy and Lee Rickerman, the new owners of the Rock & Bowl Hall of Lane bowling alley, who allowed the event to be held at the Jefferson Rock-and-Bowl.

There were 215 bowlers (and their families and fans!) that supported the two-day event – with a few County employees among their ranks. Ramona gave a special shout-out to Michelle Rue-Miller, an Air Force Veteran and a judicial assistant with Clerk of Courts—who she credited with being a one-woman raffle-ticket selling—arm twisting—fundraising machine! Deputy Mike Charity and Captain Jerry Haferman of the Sheriff's Office as well as Larry Meyer of Central Services bowled their hearts out in support of the cause.

Our deep appreciation and thanks to everyone who supported the project!
